

It's not magic! It's just science! The Magical Maths and Science Show by Mr Eddie Goldstein amused audiences with a series of interesting tricks that explore the differences between geometry and topology, Newton's law and how the Earth and Moon rotate around their common centre of gravity. Eddie invited members of the audience to participate in experiments that got them into a tangled web, much to the amusement of the audiences at large! It was an entertaining and engaging performance each time Eddie took the stage! Here are some pictorial moments ...

Two strong men can't seem to push Eddie over! It's no superhero power but simply science at work!

Eddie performed to thousands of spectators at X-periment! in Marina Square from 31st August to 2nd September 2007.

Eddie performed to 800 students at the Singapore Science Centre.
